A number of gifts for the MUSC Shawn Jenkin's Children's Hospital including a commitment of $1 million from the Pearlstine family have been received. Leadership gifts were received from MUSC Trustee Mr. Jim Battle and MUSC Foundation Board of Director John Barter. A concert by Darius Rucker was very well attended, netting $124,000; an additional $10,000 was contributed the next day from a concert attendee.

The Carolina Diabetes & Kidney Center in Sumter, SC, pledged $50,000 in support of the Department of Medicine's Research and Discovery Center. In November, the establishment of the Zucker Institute for Applied Neurosciences (ZIAN) was celebrated, made possible through the leadership and investment of former MUSC Foundation Chair, Anita Zucker, and her family through an initial investment of $5 million. Additionally, MUSC Trustee Bill Baker provided a $6-figure investment in ZIAN and participated in the program.

The Duke Endowment pledged $1.3 million in support of two initiatives: development of a state-wide coordinated system of care delivery for individuals with sickle cell disease led by Dr. Julie Kanter, and establishment of a regional telemedicine program to reduce prescription opioid use during pregnancy led by Dr. Connie Guille. Plans are underway to submit 6 new proposals for possible funding from the Duke Endowment.

Graduate Medical Education (GME) Update and Letter of Commitment

Statement: Dr. Ben Clyburn, Associate Dean for GME and Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education Designated Institutional Official (ACGME) provided an update on Graduate Medical Education. Dr. Clyburn reported the implementation of the New Accreditation System (NAS) that began in 2014 and noted it is on schedule and will be completed in 2016. Dr. Clyburn commented that our residency and fellowship programs are in substantial compliance with ACGME, having excellent GME staff that are engaged nationally with GME leaders, and that our resident engagement is very good. Areas for improvement are diversity, becoming a national leader in Patient Safety and Quality Education, and partnering / collaborating with undergraduate medical education as student education tends to parallel residency education.

The graduating residents for 2014-2015 was 187, matriculating residents 478, incoming residents on July 1, 2015 were 209 (~135 first year and 170 second year/fellowship).

Programs are accredited by the ACGME. Current number of programs offered is 60 (25 resident and 35 fellowship programs). Since 2007, our medical school graduates increased from 225 to 450 and first-year residents from 300 to 310.

He reported that at October 31 the University had 124 Days of Operating Cash and a Current Funds margin of ($2.3 million). Mr. Wamsley explained that unfavorable variances with the budget had been caused by some up-front contractual services payments for insurance as well as timing differences related to reimbursements from the MUSC Physicians. He reported that University projections show the budget tracking positive throughout the remainder of the fiscal year such that a positive operating budget bottom-line should be expected by year end. Mr. Wamsley also reminded the Board that large bottom lines to prior year audited financial statements were largely due to funding for construction projects that have been completed. He cautioned that large bottom lines in future years were unlikely.
