US News and World Report, ranked MUSC as #5 among medical schools (excluding Historically Black Colleges & Universities) with the most African American students. AAMC shows MUSC at the 96th percentile for graduates who identify as African American. The top four schools, all are larger than MUSC COM and the top three schools actually have fewer African American students than MUSC. According to their numbers, we have 11.8% African-American students. UCLA is in 4th place and is a little higher than us with almost 12.7%.

According to the Census Bureau, blacks make up fewer than 4 percent of practicing physicians, 6 percent of trainees in graduate medical education and 7 percent of medical school graduates. As a general rule, black patients are more likely to feel comfortable with black doctors. Studies have shown that they are more likely to seek them out for treatment, and to report higher satisfaction with their care. In addition, more black doctors practice in high-poverty communities of color, where physicians are relatively scarce.

Item 6. General Report of the Vice President for Development

Mr. Jim Fisher reported that the Campaign for the MUSC Shawn Jenkins Children's Hospital reached its original campaign goal of $50 million last fiscal year, leading to a revised goal of $125 million. As of earlier this week, and including dollars received from the State, the Campaign's current balance is over $98.7 million.

Several naming opportunities within the Children's Hospital have already been confirmed, including the Children's Hospital (Shawn Jenkins), the Women's Pavilion (Pearl Tourville) and the outdoor play area adjacent to the atrium. Among the spaces available to be named are the atrium, cancer center, heart center, neonatal intensive care center, and emergency care center.

The groundbreaking for the Children's Hospital will take place on Friday, August 12, 2016 at 11:00 a.m. Over 500 individuals have indicated their plans to attend including several federal and state legislators.

Mr. Fisher also reported that the Office of Development recently concluded a most successful fundraising year, receiving $68.2 million in new gifts and pledges. This surpassed the FY2016 goal of $55 million by 23%.

The Office of Development continues to receive strong support for the College of Medicine's Opening Doors Scholarship Campaign and other key University initiatives, in addition to the MUSC Shawn Jenkins Children's Hospital.

The cost of fundraising remains very competitive at $.09/$1.00 raised. The AAMC benchmark is $.14/$1.00 raised.

Mr. Fisher shared the following highlights of the recently concluded fiscal year:

- 15 new gifts and pledges at the leadership gift level of $1 million and above (compared to the previous fiscal year with nine gifts of $1 million plus).
- $18.3 million in new planned gift commitments was received, representing a 31% increase from last fiscal year.
The Annual Fund exceeded its goal by 6.4% by raising $3.1 million through direct mail, phone-a-thons, and the YES Campaign.

Fundraising campaign highlights include:

- The MUSC College of Medicine achieved its initial goal of $20 million for the Opening Doors Scholarship Campaign and set a revised goal of $30 million. The current Campaign balance is over $25.4 million. Since the Campaign Kickoff in July of 2012, 691 donors have made gifts or pledges to new or existing scholarship funds and 27 new scholarships have been established.
- The College of Health Professions launched a 50th Anniversary Campaign with a goal of $3.5 million.
- The 2016 YES (Yearly Employee Support) Campaign raised $418,665 exceeding its goal of $375,000 by over 11%. Thanks were extended to volunteer chairman, Dr. Baliga.

Item 7.

General Report of the Vice President for Research

Dr. Kathleen T. Brady shared the good news that MUSC has broken the $250M research funding level for the first time. While federal funds comprise the majority of this, MUSC has diversified its federal research funding portfolio with a large Patient-Centered Outcomes Research Institute grant in addition to several large Department of Defense grants. MUSC continues to receive a substantial amount of funding from federal flow down sources (i.e., subcontracts from other institutions). She also reported that year-to-date totals for FY2017 indicate that MUSC is currently above its funding lever for FY2016. MUSC recently received two exciting new grants: the first funds a programmatic approach to sickle cell therapy; and the second explores a precision medicine initiative for prostate cancer research.

In October, Dr. Brady will share the full FY2016 funding report. The Office of Research & Sponsored Programs is currently closing out 2016 grants and accounting for new funding.

Dr. Brady was asked how MUSC’s grants portfolio compares to other research institutions in the state. She responded that MUSC’s NIH-funding level is the highest in the state.

Recommendation of Committee: That the report be received as information.
