The purpose of this course is to provide practicing general surgeons with a high-quality program and an update on clinical problems in daily practice. Ample opportunity for discussion with fellow surgeons and local and visiting faculty will be provided. At the conclusion of the program the participants should be able to:

- Describe the impact of future minimally invasive colorectal surgery and how this will improve patient outcomes.
- Review the role of surgery in GERD and determine which candidates are appropriate for this treatment option.
- Review new techniques in laparoscopic surgery.
- Review approaches to management of penetrating abdominal injuries.
- Outline surgical complications and management of endoscopic complications and implement strategies to prevent adverse outcomes.
- Implement strategies to achieve the best surgical outcomes for the treatment of GERD.
- Review outcomes of local excision of rectal cancer and perineal fistulas.
- Review management of complex abdominal wall issues - hernias and fistulas.
- Review new technologies in management of breast cancer.
- Analyze the prognostic and therapeutic impact of axillary staging.
- Hyperparathyroidism... A Changing Paradigm.
- The Role of Surgery for GERD in 2010.
- Management of the Complicated Abdominal Wall Hernias.
- Regionalization Of Complex Operations – How It’s Done.
- The New Face Of Pancreatic Cancer Surgery.
