C. DEFINITIONS

1. Field Training Officer (FTO): A sworn officer or Dispatcher who has been recognized as an outstanding employee in his/her particular field or assignment, and who meets the requirements of selection for the FTO position.

2. Recruit: For the purpose of the FTO Program, a recruit is a new officer or dispatcher with or without prior law enforcement / dispatcher experience. A new employee remains in a recruit status until such time as he/she has successfully completed all phases of Public Safety field training, Academy or NCIC training.

8. Additional Training: Training conducted in addition to the training already received in a particular area. Additional training is usually the result of the employee’s failure to meet an acceptable level of performance on a given task. F. FIELD TRAINING OFFICER PROGRAM

1. Assignment of Recruits

   The assignment of recruits to Field Training Officers will be made by the FTO Coordinator. It is important to note that the recruit is assigned to the FTO and not to the shift. The recruit will work the same rotation as the FTO. During the training period, the recruit and the FTO will work as one officer with the FTO being the trainer and observer. The FTO will be required to complete daily observation sheets on the officers. (CALEA 33.4.3.f)

2. Training of Recruits and required reports

   a. A recruit enters into the Field Training Officer Program after he/she has successfully completed the necessary classroom instruction.

   b. Recruits will undergo six (6) weeks and one week of observation (twenty-four DORs) of training under the supervision of a Primary and Secondary FTO (CALEA 33.4.3.a)

   c. Daily Observation Reports (DOR) will be completed for each day the recruit is trained/evaluated. If the recruit is on sick leave a DOR will be completed by the FTO and will show no evaluation and why. The DOR will show no evaluation-LIMBO. (CALEA 33.4.3.g)

e. Week 3 thru 4, the recruit will be assigned to a secondary FTO. The same evaluation procedure will apply.

f. Week 5 thru 6, the recruit will be reassigned to another shift and to the secondary FTO. The Field Training Manual should be complete by the end of week 7 (DOR 28). At the end of the 7th week (observation week), the Primary and Secondary FTO will make recommendations to the Training Officer as to the status of the recruit, i.e. recommended for board or remedial training. This form is available from the Training officer.

g. If the recommendation of the Primary and Secondary Field Training Officer is not to release the recruit from a training status, the recruit will report to the Training Office on his/her next duty day. The Training Staff will review all of the recruit’s training records and take action with regards to remedial training, if appropriate. If additional training is not indicated, recommendations on the recruit’s status will be made to the Director via Patrol Commander by the FTO Coordinator.

h. If after remedial training the recruit is still unable to complete the field training program, he/she will be released from employment.

i. If the recommendation calls for the recruit’s release from a training status, a Review Board will be convened.

3. Review Board

a. If a recruit has been recommended for release, a Review Board will be convened. The recruit’s Primary or Secondary FTO will appear before the Review Board with the recruit.

d. Each recruit will be assessed on their level of proficiency. The Review Board will develop a list of questions covering various aspects of the recruit’s training. The recruit may be asked to demonstrate their proficiency by performing a specific task.

e. The Review Board will make a recommendation - in the form of a written memorandum - as to the recruit’s status. That memorandum must be signed by each member of the Review Board and is to be submitted to the Deputy Chief.

4. Review Board Recommendations

a. When recommended by the Review Board, the Patrol Commander will recommend to the Director that the officer be released to full duty. The Director will approve or disapprove the recommendation.

In the event the probationary Supervisor is not ready for a solo assignment, this letter will indicate the areas which need remediation. A letter of recommendation will also be submitted by the Patrol Commander. The recommendation will be in the form of an interdepartmental memo.
