Dear Dr. Reves,

Please find the enclosed annual review for the Office of Graduate Medical Education for the period July 1, 2008 through June 30, 2009.

As you well know, the financial situation has put a strain on program funds and growth; however, we have successfully reduced our costs while still maintaining the highest standards for our programs.

The implementation of the e-GME component of E*Value is in progress and several test runs on individual residency programs have been successfully tested. Once this data is carefully audited, we will be able to implement e-GME across all residency programs. This will streamline the input of data from the program coordinators and assist us in assuring we capture all appropriate Medicare funds for training.

The GME faculty and staff have instituted a comprehensive review of all ACGME institutional requirements and developed a checklist of all areas to prepare for the 2010 institutional site visit. This analysis has made us aware of several areas for improvement, the largest of which was the restructuring of the membership of the GME Committee. The membership requirements suggested by the ACGME have all been reviewed and approved by the GMEC. The newly established committee commenced with the July 2009 meeting. (Note: The composition of the new committee is included as an addendum to this report.)
The resident staffing of the new Ashley River Tower has now become nicely established and most of the anxieties, expressed by the new house staff in anticipation of the move, have been allayed.

The implementation of the MUSC Excellence initiative to the resident level progresses. The first introduction of several Press Ganey questions for the patients, regarding the performance of the residents, was presented to the GMEC by Mr. Chris Reese. The expansion of this effort to include the residents in the project to improve the quality of patient care has been enthusiastically received.

The internal reviews of our programs have continued successfully using the PIF document. All programs undergoing site visits over the past year have been approved with full accreditation.

I look forward to meeting the challenges of the upcoming year with the excellent and devoted team we have in place within the GME Office.

Please let me know if you have any questions regarding this annual review.

Sincerely,

Harry S. Clarke, Jr., M.D., Ph.D.
Professor of Urology
Associate Dean for Graduate Medical Education
Interim ACGME Designated Institutional Official

Graduate Medical Education Committee

The GMEC recognized a need for formal restructuring in order to strengthen our standing for the anticipated 2010 Institutional Site Visit. The change was discussed from January – June, and implemented in July 2009. (See Attachment I for membership.)
SERVICE

• Orientation:
  o Consolidated the orientation program for PGY1s from four days into one day, resulting in fiscal and time savings. PGY2s and above continued as a one-day orientation.
  o Information was placed on CATTS to allow new residents to learn and complete the required orientation lessons at their own pace. To add, this change allowed for the elimination of repeat lectures, reducing the time commitment from our faculty.

• Implementation of MUSC Excellence Initiative to the Resident Staff:
  o Core Competency Cards and AIDET Cards were distributed to each incoming resident to attach to their identification badges to serve as a constant reminder of the ACGME’s six competencies and the MUSC Excellence initiative. In addition, Dr. Jerry Reves, Dean of the College of Medicine, formally presented the MUSC Excellence philosophy to the new, incoming PGY1s at their 2009 orientation program.

• Fellowship Events:
  o The GME Office planned, sponsored and conducted events to promote fellowship and boost morale for the resident staff. These events were streamlined to minimize costs.
    ▪ June 2009 – Annual Auxiliary Welcome Dinner for all spouses or significant others of MUSC residents
    ▪ July 2009 – “MUSC Residents Night at the Riverdogs” for resident staff and their families held at the Riley Stadium.

• Core Curriculum
  o The Core Curriculum Lectures, such as sleep deprivation, communication, etc. are web-based so that programs can utilize them at their convenience.
  o D. Jay Davis, Jr., JD, Young Clement Rivers, LLP, conducted a Mock Malpractice Trial on September 24th in conjunction with Lisa Kindy, JD, Risk Management Office. This was not recorded due to the sensitive nature of the information provided. This will be an annual event.
The GME Office has developed a preparatory strategy, and is in the process of collecting and compiling relevant information, for the anticipated 2010 institutional site visit by the ACGME.

Internal Reviews:
- The Internal Residency Review Committee (IRRC) continues to use the individual program’s Program Information Form (PIF) for the internal review, which has been uniformly well received by the Program Directors as it facilitates the generation of this document at the time of the ACGME site visit. All programs reviewed in the past year have received renewed accreditation. (See Appendix II)

FINANCE

- Continued to work with Internal Audit to monitor the primary GME UDAK (cost center) and the GME MUSC Foundation account in order to foster and maintain fiscal transparency and to promote practices of fiscal responsibility and accountability.

- Reviewed all contracted salary lines for resident staff members. We determined those that did not meet CMS and ACGME funding criterion and referred them to MUHA’s Hospital Administration and Finance Director to determine need and source of continued funding.

- Met with Hospital Finance and Reimbursement Services directors and the Advanced Informatics representative to discuss MUSC’s use of the e*gme component of E*Value. Utilizing e*gme will allow the Hospital to recoup maximum reimbursement dollars from CMS. The GME Office plans to implement e*gme within the next several months.

- E*Value – Worked closely with the Education Services Department at the VA, as a result of the new disbursement agreement, to create a method and template to document resident duty hours at the VA. This new method will allow the Hospital to recoup maximum reimbursement dollars from VA while satisfying the new federal requirements.

- A substantial cost-savings was made to the GME Office cost center by eliminating several resident fellowship functions, including the GME Resident/Faculty Golf Tournament, the Chief Residents/Resident Representatives Holiday Dinner, and the GME Resident Farewell.
The GMEC scope of activities includes all issues referenced in the ACGME Essentials of Accredited Residencies in Graduate Medical Education: Institutional Requirements.
